Fresh Events

Certified Fresh Events was created with the mission to create events that fun and accessible with an emphasis on reaching the average developer and IT professional. We take the hottest topics in the development and technology and get speakers who can translate them into real, usable and understandable information.

We specialize in creating and organizing events around technology, development/programming and IT. Our goal is to share knowledge online and make each of our events accessible all over the world.

Certified Fresh Events at a glance

▶ The event series started in August 2017.

▶ For the first event we got more than 600 registrations from people from over 60 countries.

▶ Over 250 people watched the live stream and many more have watched the recordings on Crowdcast and YouTube.

"Certified Fresh Events are great because I can hear from industry experts from the comfort of my own home or office."

- TJ VanToll (speaker)
Just watched the presentation you guys did on Developing JavaScript in 2017. I just wanna say it was really cool & the story telling really worked. The conversation was really enjoyable & the context never chipped away.

- Vipin J S (attendee)
Speaking at Certified Events was great. The platform was easy to use and produced great content. They did a great job promoting it and I had an incredibly large audience.

- Raymond Camden, IBM (speaker)
